PROFESSIONALLY SPEAKING

NANCY STEEN, JEAN ALMAND, NELDA SIMS, and SALLY ANN KOENIG attended the Academic Library Section of KLA April 1-3 in Louisville. SALLY ANN gave a presentation at this meeting.

A joint meeting of SLA and the Special Libraries Section of KLA was held at Rough River April 9-10. Those attending from Library Services were VIRGINIA NEEL, CAROLYN BOLES, NELDA SIMS, BECKY MOORE, and JEAN ALMAND. The theme of the workshop was Control Your Career.

NELDA SIMS and JEAN ALMAND attended OVGTSL in Cincinnati.

EVELYN THURMAN attended the Third District Library Association Meeting of KLA in Louisville.

ELIZABETH COSSEY traveled to New Orleans to attend the SALALM Conference.

DR. EARL WASSOM participated in the Kentucky Academic Computer User's Group April 17.

SALLY ANN KOENIG, REG LASWELL, and DR. EARL WASSOM participated in the Management Training Program on WKU's campus April 23-24. The seminars were held in conjunction with Indiana University for deans, directors and department heads.

DEBBY SMITH attended the 4th Annual Kentucky NOW (National Organization of Women) and Awards Luncheon honoring Thelma Stovall March 21, 1981. The conference was held in Louisville at the Galt House.

CHRIS BIXLER, BETH VACCARO, DEBBY SMITH, NELDA SIMS, PAT BOWEN, LINDA ALLAN, and DIANE ALPERT participated in a "Management Strategies" Workshop March 17. The speaker was Dr. Mary Bacon, Coordinator of Cooperative Education at Somerset Community College. The workshop was sponsored by WKU Women's Alliance.

SALLY ANN KOENIG, JEAN ALMAND, SANDRA ANDERSON, CHRIS BIXLER, JANICE MASANNAT, and DR. EARL WASSOM attended the SAALCK Meeting and Sub-Committee Meetings on April 3.

NELDA SIMS, DEBBY SMITH, CONNIE FOSTER, and LINDA ALLAN attended a seminar on "Women Communicating in Organizations: The Way It Is". The seminar was conducted by Barbara Johnson, WKU Department of Communication and Theatre, and sponsored by The Women's Alliance.

DR. EARL WASSOM, continually on the lookout for Western's participation in networking, thought he had come close to interlibrary loan participation and bibliographic searching when the Kentucky SOLINET Users' Group invited him to meet with them in Frankfort to discuss regional users of the system. ELIZABETH COSSEY, REG LASWELL, and SALLY ANN KOENIG accompanied DR. WASSOM and were disappointed to learn that this system has little or nothing to offer Western, at present. The meeting was held May 8.

The State Data Center held orientations for area librarians in Hopkinsville on April 20-21. The session of the morning of the 20th was attended by GENE WHICKER; SARA GLEAVES participated in a "hands on" workshop the following day.

A depository program for Kentucky Government publications was one topic of discussion when the KLA Government Documents round table met in Lexington May 15. The group will release a questionnaire to measure the need for an interest in such a program, which has been adopted by many states in recent years. It might be said that Kentucky has a depository program already, but actually only two libraries participate: the State Library and the University of Kentucky. GENE WHICKER is a member of the committee to study the question.

PEOPLE

During National Book Week, November 16-22, 1980, EVELYN THURMAN spoke and showed slides to: Fifth grade class at Jones-Jaggers Lab School; third grade class at T. C. Cherry School; second grade class at McNeil School; kindergarten and first grade classes at Franklin Elementary, Franklin, Kentucky; and a variety of students at St. Joseph's.

PEGGY WRIGHT spoke to a group of educators about Elizabeth Ann Seton. She also participated in a two-day retreat in Owensboro, under the College of Education Dean's workshop, and spoke to the Western Kentucky Regional Chapter of the Saint Vincent DePaul Society on Remedying the Plight of the Poor.

PAT BOWEN'S expertise as a bibliographer shows up in the number of bibliographies she churns through the presses. In addition to her Gerontology publication, PAT has compiled bibliographies on Real Estate, Transportation, Statistical Sources, and Urban Studies. Housed on Cravens 9th floor, these list WKU's holdings for the above mentioned topics.

EVELYN THURMAN led an in-service on Storytelling for Hopkins County teachers and librarians at Madisonville, Kentucky. Sixty-seven attended the three hour workshop.

BECKY MOORE was a workshop leader/participant for the Headstart Regional Teachers' Conference held in Hopkinsville.

Congrats to former Student Assistants: RICK PARRENT who received his Ed.D. from Indiana University in Higher Education and TERESA DAUSE graduated with a BA degree with a major in Library Science and was also named the scholar of the College of Applied Arts. Congratulations also to former library employee, KAREN WASSOM ATTIG, who received her Masters in Communication and Marketing.

EXHIBITS

Thanks to the Art Department: A Walter Stomps Art Exhibits adds an array of color to Cravens 5th floor; and student art graced the 4th floor with new personality.

Bill Weaver's ceramic display added a new dimension when one peered more closely at his photographs depicting the process: from a ball of clay to a lovely finished product.

Since Western did not go to the inauguration, the inauguration came to Western in the form of an exhibit on the 5th floor. Dr. HENRY HARDIN supplied the invitation, Kentucky Library lent historical buttons and programs, and DONNA PHILLIPS and FINA SIMPSON ransacked Republican Headquarters for Reagan-Bush memorabilia.

In conjunction with Dissident Week, the Helm Lobby housed a Ukranian Folk Art Exhibit, lent to the Library by Dr. and Mrs. Basil Drobocky. Brother Jude Matthias added a Russian dimension to the display with a showing of Russian icons and literature.

Lauren Notheisen displayed her student's water colors in Helm during the month of April.

Wandall Dye's exhibit on Air Brush Paintings, featuring student art will remain in the Helm Lobby throughout May.

Two artists have loaned their treasures to Cravens 5th floor display area. Valerie Aslakson-Jennings' show of graphite/pastels in "Adventures with Seashells" is a mood setter for those longing for vacation and JANE GLASSER'S horse carvings brighten the newly acquired Parker Pen Case.

A NEW LOOK

In an effort to provide more comprehensive services, RON SKILLERN and his crew reorganized the 2nd floor of Helm. They combined the Microforms and the Periodicals offices (ext. 34), moved some furniture, abstracts and Indexes around. These innovations include full-time student staff rendering desk service (ext. 26), and a clearer view of the floor. Good work, RON, et al.

PUBLICATIONS

Congratulations to DIANE RUTLEDGE on her publication: "Job Permanency: The Academic Librarians's Dilemma is the Administrator's Challenge for the 1980's" in the March 1981 issue to the Journal of Academic Librarianship. EVELYN THURMAN has done it again! "Rebecca Caudill: A Personal View" was published in the Fall, 1980 issue of the Kentucky Library Association Bulletin. CAROLYN BOLES and BECKY MOORE both have reviews published in the Winter, 1981 Kentucky Libraries. CAROLYN'S review is "Wildlife in Your World," a kit published by the National Wildlife Federation. BECKY has reviewed Iris M. Tiedt's Exploring Books with Children.

PUZZLE CORNER

IF YOU LOOK FOR SIX CUBES IN THE ABOVE ILLUSTRATION, YOU WILL SEE THEM. IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO FIND SEVEN, YOU CAN.

THE SHADED SIDE
OF THIS PRISM
IS TOWARD YOU.
BUT, IF YOU
LOOK AGAIN,
IT'S AWAY FROM YOU!

ENJOY A HAPPY SUMMER!
